

SALES REPRESENTATIVE - GEELONG

Ref: COR108

Coregas is the largest Australian owned industrial, medical and speciality gas company, and is part of the Energy division of Wesfarmers. At Coregas we are proud to say that service and quality are at the core of everything we do.

Coregas is going through a period of exciting growth and change. Migomag, our Victorian based welding technology and cutting consumables business, is part of our offer to our customers and integral to our growth plans.

We are currently looking for a technical sales professional to manage customer relationships and daily sales activities in the Geelong region.

Reporting to the Area Manager – Geelong this role will be the custodian of the Coregas, Migomag OTC, Kisol & Kobe products in Geelong and responsible for delivering profitable and sustainable sales growth.

Ideally you will be an energetic and enthusiastic sales professional, able to deliver sales results and cultivate new business opportunities by taking a problem solving and solution based approach to customer relationships.

To be successful in this role you will need to demonstrate:

- Success as in a business to business sales role;
- Advanced relationship management capability;
- A background as an industrial tradesperson in the metal fabrication, engineering or sheetmetal industries;
- Strong sense of commerciality and business acumen.

Experience in the cutting and welding industry will be highly desirable.

At Coregas we offer you the opportunity to build the career you want. We want people who are excited by the challenges of our business and variety this role offers. In return, we offer the recognition you deserve for making a real impact every day.
